Description

The 40 cm long DRAUMET PREMIUM DP331-18 spirit level is a precision tool designed for professional construction, assembly, and finishing work. It is suitable for leveling walls, structures, profiles, installing doors, windows, furniture, installations, and any elements that require precise vertical, horizontal, or angle alignment.

Three vials ensure quick and clear measurement readings, while the rotating vial allows for the determination of non-standard angles, which increases the tool's functionality. Double-sided milled measuring surfaces guarantee precise adhesion to the surface and high precision. The built-in magnet facilitates work on metal elements, ensuring stability without the need to support a spirit level.

The solid, yet well-balanced construction ensures durability and comfort of use even during intensive use.
